(2) The requirements under this Chapter, except for Articles 86–88, shall apply to payment transactions in a currency other than the currency of a Member State where both the payer's payment service provider and the payee's payment service provider are, or the sole payment service provider in the payment transaction is, located within the European Union, in respect to those parts of the payment transaction which are carried out in the European Union.

(4) (amended; Darjaven Vestnik, issue 13 of 2020) When the payment service user is not a consumer, the payment service user and payment service provider may agree that Article 68, paragraph 1, Article 70, paragraphs 4 and 5, Articles 78, 80, Article 82, paragraphs 2 and 3, Articles 85, 91, 92, Article 93, paragraph 1 and Article 94 shall not apply in their relationships. If charges are to be levied, those shall be agreed between the payment service user and the payment service provider and shall be appropriate and in line with the payment service provider's actual costs.

(2) For payment transactions performed on the territory of the European Union, where both the payer's and the payee's payment service providers are, or the sole payment service provider in the payment transaction is, located therein, the payee pays the charges levied by his payment service provider, and the payer pays the charges levied by his payment service provider.

(3) The payment service provider shall not prevent the payee from requesting from the payer a charge, offering him a reduction or otherwise steering him towards the use of a given payment instrument, with any charges applied not exceeding the direct costs borne by the payee for the use of this payment instrument.

(4) The payee may not request from the payer to pay charges for the use of card-based payment instruments and for payment services to which Regulation (EU) No 260/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 March 2012 establishing technical and business requirements for credit transfers and direct debits in euro and amending Regulation (EC) No 924/2009 (OJ, L 94/22 of 30 March 2012), hereinafter referred to as Regulation (EC) No 260/2012, applies.

3. to apply uniform conditions to payment orders transmitted through the services of a payment initiation service provider and payment orders transmitted directly by the payer in terms of timing, priority or charges without any discrimination other than for objective reasons.

(5) The provision of payment initiation services shall not be dependent on the existence of a contractual relationship between the payment initiation service providers and the account servicing payment service providers for that purpose.

Access to and Use of Payment Account Information in the Case of Account Information Services

Article 73. (1) The payment service user may use the services under Article 4, item 8 only if the payment account is accessible online.

(4) The provision of the account information service shall not be dependent on the existence of a contractual relationship between the account information service providers and the account servicing payment service providers for that purpose.

Limits of the Use of a Payment Instrument and of the Access to Payment Accounts by Payment Service Providers

Article 74. (1) In cases where a specific payment instrument is used for the purposes of giving consent, the payer and his payment service provider may agree on spending limits for payment transactions executed through that payment instrument.

(2) If agreed in the framework contract, the payment service provider may reserve the right to block a payment instrument for objectively justified reasons related to:

1. the security of the payment instrument;

2. the suspicion of unauthorised use of the payment instrument;

3. fraudulent use of the payment instrument;

4. in the case of a payment instrument with a credit line, a significantly increased risk that the payer may be unable to fulfil his liability to pay.

(3) In the cases referred to in paragraph 2, the payment service provider shall inform the payer of the blocking of the payment instrument and the reasons for it, where possible, before the payment instrument is blocked and at the latest immediately thereafter, unless giving such information would compromise objectively justified security reasons or is prohibited by other relevant legislation.

(4) The payment service provider shall unblock the payment instrument or replace it with a new payment instrument once the reasons for blocking no longer exist.

(5) An account servicing payment service provider may deny an account information service provider or a payment initiation service provider access to a payment account for objectively justified and duly evidenced reasons relating to unauthorised or fraudulent access to the payment account by that account information service provider or that payment initiation service provider, including the unauthorised or fraudulent initiation of a payment transaction.

(6) In the cases referred to in paragraph 5, the account servicing payment service provider shall inform the payer that access to the payment account is denied and the reasons therefor in the form agreed, where possible, before access is denied and at the latest immediately thereafter, unless giving such information would compromise objectively justified security reasons or is prohibited by other relevant legislation.

(7) The account servicing payment service provider shall allow access to the payment account once the reasons for denying access under paragraph 5 no longer exist.

(8) The account servicing payment service provider shall immediately inform the BNB of the circumstances under paragraph 5 relating to the account information service provider or the payment initiation service provider and provide relevant data. Article 75. The payment service user entitled to use a payment instrument shall have the following obligations:

1. to use the payment instrument in accordance with the terms governing the issue and use of the payment instrument, which must be objective, non-discriminatory and proportionate;

2. to notify the payment service provider, or the entity specified by the latter, without undue delay on becoming aware of loss, theft or misappropriation of the payment instrument or of its unauthorised use;

3. as soon as he receives a payment instrument, take all reasonable steps to keep its personalised security credentials safe, including by not recording any information thereof on the payment instrument and not storing such information together with the payment instrument.

Obligations of the Payment Service Provider in Relation to Payment Instruments

Article 76. (1) The payment service provider issuing a payment instrument shall have the following obligations:

1. to ensure that the personalised security credentials of the payment instrument are not accessible to parties other than the payment service user entitled to use the payment instrument, without prejudice to the obligations on the payment service user under Article 75;
  2. to refrain from sending an unsolicited payment instrument, except where a payment instrument already given to the payment service user is to be replaced;
  3. to store for no less than five years any information which allows tracing the transactions executed with the payment instrument;
  4. to ensure that appropriate means are available at any time to enable the payment service user to make a notification under Article 75, item 2, and on request for unblocking under Article 74, paragraph 4 within the working time;
  5. on request, the payment service provider shall provide the payment service user with the means to prove, for 18 months after the notification under Article 75, item 2, that he made such notification;
  6. provide the payment service user with an option to make a notification under Article 75, item 2 free of charge and to charge, if at all, only replacement costs directly attributed to the payment instrument;
  7. to prevent without delay any use of the payment instrument once the notification under Article 75, item 2 has been made.
  8. to ensure that the requirements under Chapter Four and this Chapter are applied to the payment service user entitled to use the payment instrument.
- (2) The payment service provider shall bear the risk of misuse in sending a payment instrument to the payer or of sending any personalised security credentials of the payment instrument.

Notification and Rectification of Unauthorised or Incorrectly Executed Payment Transactions

Article 77. (1) The payment service user shall obtain rectification of an unauthorised or incorrectly executed payment transaction from the payment service provider only if the payment service user notifies the payment service provider without undue delay on becoming aware of any such transaction giving rise to a claim, including that within the meaning of Articles 91, 92 and Article 93, paragraph 1, but no later than 13 months after the debit date.

(2) It shall be deemed that the payment service user has become aware of an unauthorised or incorrectly executed payment transaction not later than upon receipt of the information under Article 57, paragraph 1 or Article 65, paragraph 1.

(3) The time limit referred to in paragraph 1 shall not apply when the payment service provider failed to fulfil its obligation to provide information on the payment transaction in accordance with Chapter Four.

(4) Where a payment initiation service provider is involved, the rectification under paragraph 1 shall be made by the account servicing payment service provider.

Evidence on Authentication and Execution of Payment Transactions

Article 78. (1) Where a payment service user denies having authorised an executed payment transaction or claims that the payment transaction was not correctly executed, it is for his payment service provider to prove that the payment transaction was authenticated, accurately recorded, entered in the accounts and not affected by a technical breakdown or some other deficiency in the payment service provided.

(2) If the payment transaction is initiated through a payment initiation service provider, the burden shall be on the payment initiation service provider to prove that within its sphere of competence, the payment transaction was authenticated, accurately recorded and not affected by a technical breakdown or other deficiency linked to the payment service of which it is in charge.

(3) Authentication shall be a procedure which allows the payment service provider to verify the proper use of a specific payment instrument, including its personalised security credentials. The use of a specific payment instrument shall be established in the rules and procedures of the payment service provider in charge for execution of the relevant payment transaction.

(4) Where a payment service user denies having authorised an executed payment transaction, the use of a payment instrument recorded by the payment service provider, including, where appropriate, the payment initiation service provider shall in itself not necessarily be sufficient to prove either that the payment transaction was authorised by the payer or that the payer acted fraudulently or failed with intent or gross negligence to fulfil one or more of his obligations under Article 75. The payment service provider, including, where appropriate, the payment initiation service provider shall provide supporting evidence to prove fraud or gross negligence on the part of the payment service user.

Payment Service Provider's Liability for Unauthorised Payment Transactions

Article 79. (1) In the case of an unauthorised payment transaction, the payer's payment service provider shall refund the payer the amount of the unauthorised payment transaction immediately, and in any event no later than by the end of the following business day, after noting or being notified of the transaction, except where the payer's payment service provider has reasonable grounds for suspecting fraud and communicates those grounds to the relevant competent authority. Where applicable, the payer's payment service provider shall restore the payer's payment account to the state in which it would have been had the unauthorised payment transaction not taken place. The credit value date for the payer's payment account shall be no later than the date on which the account was debited with the amount of the unauthorised payment transaction.

(2) Where the payment transaction is initiated through a payment initiation service provider, the account servicing payment service provider shall refund immediately, and in any event no later than by the end of the following business day the amount of the unauthorised payment transaction and, where applicable, restore the debited payment account to the state in which it would have been had the unauthorised payment transaction not taken place.

(3) If the payment initiation service provider is liable for the unauthorised payment transaction, it shall immediately compensate the account servicing payment service provider at its request for the losses incurred or sums paid as a result of the refund to the payer, including the amount of the unauthorised payment transaction.

(4) The burden under Article 78, paragraph 2 shall be on the payment initiation service provider to prove that within its sphere of competence the payment transaction was authenticated, accurately recorded and not affected by a technical breakdown or other deficiency linked to the payment service of which the payment initiation service provider is in charge.

(5) Paragraphs 1–4 shall apply also to electronic money except where the payer's payment service provider does not have the ability to freeze the payment account on which the electronic money is stored or block the payment instrument.

Payer's Liability for Unauthorised Payment Transactions

Article 80. (1) By way of derogation from Article 79, the payer shall bear the losses relating to any unauthorised payment transactions resulting from the use of a lost, stolen or misappropriated payment instrument up to a maximum amount agreed upon between the payment service provider and the user but not more than BGN 100.

(2) Paragraph 1 shall not apply in cases of:

1. the loss, theft or misappropriation of a payment instrument was not detectable to the payer prior to a payment, except where the payer has acted fraudulently; or
2. the loss was caused by acts or lack of action of an employee, agent or branch of a payment service provider or of an entity to which its activities were outsourced.

(3) The payer shall bear all the losses relating to any unauthorised payment transactions if he incurred them by acting fraudulently or by failing to fulfil one or more of his obligations under Article 75 with intent or gross negligence. In these cases the payer shall bear the losses irrespective of their amount.

(4) Where the payer's payment service provider does not require strong customer authentication, the payer shall not bear any financial losses unless the payer has acted fraudulently. Where the payee or the payment service provider of the payee fails to accept strong customer authentication, it shall refund the financial damage caused to the payer's payment service provider.

(5) After notification in accordance with Article 75, item 2, the payer shall not bear any financial consequences resulting from use of the lost, stolen or misappropriated payment instrument, except where he has acted fraudulently.

(6) If the payment service provider does not provide appropriate means for the notification at all times of a lost, stolen or misappropriated payment instrument, as required under Article 76, paragraph 1, item 4, the payer shall not be liable for the financial consequences resulting from use of that payment instrument, except where he has acted fraudulently.

(7) Paragraphs 1–6 shall apply also to electronic money except where the payer’s payment service provider does not have the ability to freeze the payment account on which the electronic money is stored or block the payment instrument.

Payment Transactions Where the Transaction Amount Is Not Known in Advance

Article 81. (1) Where a payment transaction is initiated by or through the payee in the context of a card-based payment transaction and the exact amount is not known at the moment when the payer gives consent to execute the payment transaction, the payer’s payment service provider may block funds on the payer’s payment account only if the payer has given consent to the exact amount of the funds to be blocked.

(2) Upon receipt of the information about the exact amount of the payment transaction and at the latest immediately after receipt of the payment order, the payer’s payment service provider shall release without delay the funds blocked on the payer’s payment account under paragraph 1.

Refunds for Payment Transactions Initiated by or through a Payee

Article 82. (1) The payer is entitled to a refund from his payment service provider of an authorised payment transaction initiated by or through a payee which has already been executed, if the following conditions are met:

1. the authorisation did not specify the exact amount of the payment transaction when the authorisation was made; and

2. the amount of the payment transaction exceeded the amount the payer could reasonably have expected taking into account his previous spending pattern, the conditions in his framework contract and relevant circumstances of the case.

(2) The request for refund referred to in paragraph 1 shall be made by the payer within 56 days from the date on which the funds were debited. At the payment service provider’s request, the payer shall provide factual elements relating to the conditions under paragraph 1.

(3) Within ten business days after receiving a request for a refund, the payment service provider shall either refund the full amount of the payment transaction or provide justification for refusing the refund, indicating the bodies to which the payer may refer the matter if he does not accept the justification provided. In the cases under paragraph 7, the provider may not refuse to refund the amount.

(4) The refund shall include the whole amount of the executed payment transaction and the credit value date for the payer’s payment account shall be no later than the date the amount had been debited.

(5) For the purposes of paragraph 1, item 2, the payer may not rely on currency exchange reasons if the reference exchange rate agreed with his payment service provider was applied.

(6) It may be agreed in the framework contract between the payer and the payment service provider that the payer has no right to a refund under paragraph 1 where he has given his consent to execute the payment transaction directly to his payment service provider and, where applicable, information on the future payment transaction was provided or made available in an agreed manner to the payer for at least 28 days before the due date of the payment transaction.

(7) For direct debits as referred to in Article 1 of Regulation (EU) No 260/2012, the payer has an unconditional right to a refund within the time limits laid down in paragraphs 2 and 3.

The payer's account shall not be debited before receipt of the payment order.

(2) If the point in time of receipt is not on a business day for the payer's payment service provider, the payment order shall be deemed to have been received on the following business day.

(3) The payment service provider may establish a cut-off time near the end of a business day beyond which any payment order received shall be deemed to have been received on the following business day.

(4) If the payment service user initiating a payment order and his payment service provider agree that execution of the payment order shall start on a specific day or at the end of a certain period or on the day on which the payer has set funds at his payment service provider's disposal, the point in time of receipt is deemed to be the agreed day. If the agreed day is not a business day for the payment service provider, the payment order received shall be deemed to have been received on the following business day.

Refusal of Payment Orders

Article 84. (1) Where the payment service provider refuses to execute a payment order or refuses to initiate a payment transaction, the refusal and, if possible, the reasons for it and the procedure for correcting any factual mistakes that led to the refusal shall be notified to the payment service user, unless the provision of such information is prohibited by other relevant EU legislation.

(2) The payment service provider shall provide or make available the notification under paragraph 1 in an agreed manner at the earliest opportunity within the periods specified in Article 87, paragraphs 2–8.

(3) The framework contract may include an option for the payment service provider to impose charges corresponding to its actual costs for such a notification if the refusal is objectively justified.

(4) In cases where all the conditions set out in the payer's framework contract are met, the payer's payment service provider shall not refuse to execute an authorised payment order irrespective of whether the payment order is initiated by a payer, including through a payment initiation service provider, or by or through a payee, unless prohibited by other relevant legislation.

(5) For the purposes of Article 87, paragraphs 2–6, Articles 91, 92 and Article 93, paragraph 1, a payment order of which execution has been refused shall be deemed not to have been received.

(3) In the cases under Article 83, paragraph 4, the payment service user may revoke a payment order at the latest by the end of the business day preceding the day agreed for debiting the funds.

(4) In the event of a direct debit, the payer also may revoke the payment order at the latest by the end of the business day preceding the day agreed for debiting the accounts.

(5) After the time limits specified in paragraphs 1–4 but not later than upon crediting the payee's account, the payment order may be revoked only if agreed between the payment service user and his payment service provider; in the cases specified in paragraphs 2 and 4, the payee's consent is required.

(6) If agreed in the framework contract, the payment service provider may charge for revocation of a payment order.

Amounts Transferred and Amounts Received

Article 86. (1) The payment service provider(s) of the payer, the payment service provider(s) of the payee and any intermediaries of the payment service providers shall transfer the full amount of the payment transaction and refrain from deducting charges from the amount transferred.

(2) No partial transfers are allowed for individual payment orders or direct debit requests.
